

as a subscriber of xm raidio, i am writing to suport xm haveing weather and traffic reports. as a truck driver, the instant traffic and weather reports i can get instantly any time any were keep me moveing by helping me avoid traffic jams. for instance, the night that tanker burned up that brige in brigeport,ct, i was leaveing springfield mass, and i was listening to one of the music channels when another driver hollard over the cb that headline news on xm was reporting i95 shut down due to a major tanker fire, but they gave little details as to detouring. i turned to the new york city area traffic station and found that there wasnt an easy way around off i95, i then decided to diver and take an alternate further away from i95 and had no troubles at all. now before i leave for jersey city, i always check the traffic report for the nyc area and have avoided several other back ups since. i know you sill do the right thing by upholding xm's rite to fredom of speech and keep us truckers, travlers, and commuters lives a little smother thanks to xm and there instant traffic and weather reports.
